The Zen Of Seeing Seeing

Chances are you'll see things in each that you've never seen before, that you'll never forget, that will become a part of you forever. For those moments when you draw an object, a person, or a landscape you become a part of what you see--and it becomes a part of you. In this way, drawing becomes a form of meditation, the Zen of Seeing.

This approach to art, named "seeing/drawing" by Franck, is a form of meditation, "a way of getting into intimate touch with the vision world around us, and through it... with ourselves." Unwavering attention is all important. Through this approach we can pull down the walls that separate us from other people, animals, places, and things.

The Zen of seeing is a beautiful book and is a great book for inspiration and refreshing your art practice. I bought it just before running a drawing and walking workshop and found Frederick Franck's approach reinforced my own ideas on seeing and drawing. It is a meditation and a practical guide. There are some fantastic drawings in there too.
